

Ways of getting speed

- Someone publishes a paper while you're working on the same thing

- You start working on a great idea, only to discover that it has already been done

- A paper gets published that makes you say, “why didn’t I do that?”

Ways of getting scooped

- Someone publishes a paper while you're working on the same thing
- You start working on a great idea, only to discover that it has already been done
- A paper gets published that makes you say, "why didn't I do that?"

Two of my favorite things