the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age has increased by 1.2 billion (United Nations 2002).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of children in the 21st century. The United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child (1989) states that children have the right to be heard in decisions that affect them. The United Nations Secretary-General Kofi Annan (1999) has called for a new global compact for children.
